Title: The Dream

Release Date: 26th September 2011
Release ID: CW025

This 2 track single from cr38 offers a slice of quality trance that is deep, emotive and beautiful. Rich tapestries of musical melodic sound art are expertly crafted using cr38's awesome combination of academically recognised musical prowess and self-trained yet highly impressive production skills. The Dream puts to use a melodic sequence that cr38 left on the backburner for some years but it kept calling him until he finally submitted and shaped the masterpiece you hear today. Inspired Groove has a different origin and started life on a Roland MC909 groovebox where the melody was keyed by hand to give it a "human" feel. Both tracks hold plenty of common ground and ooze deep, intense emotional colour.

The Dream (Original Mix) ▶

Each element is so clear in this fresh crisp mix. Colourful synth basses and bubbling leads that charm and do not offend. The lingering piano that is full of emotion takes us gently into the breakdown where a striking synth lead then carries the soul away, soaring above the hard thumping kick drums.

Inspired Groove (Original Mix) ▶

The held strings, bubbling bass, "calling" synth and magical piano provoke a moody atmosphere that speaks of a rainy day in paradise. An exquisite breakdown moves into the "hand keyed" lazy lead that ducks and dances through the second section like mini rainbows bouncing round a blue sky.

"Impressive stuff" - 5/5, Pascal B, The Arches
"Quite a talent here...will be playing" - 4.5/5, Donald Wilborn
"Cool trancey release...will play!" - 4/5, KyneticS
"Emotional and atmospheric" - 4/5, No Sonic Limits
"Good trance with good energy" - 4/5, HUSS
